

Monitoring & Training Together

SambaSafety now offers driver training within Qorta, making it the most comprehensive driver risk management platform on the market. With the addition of Qorta University, identifying and addressing at-risk drivers has never been easier. Companies can enroll drivers in training courses addressing high-risk behavior before a crash or disqualifying incident occurs. Doing all of this within one platform significantly reduces the administrative overhead associated with deploying a comprehensive training program.

Better Retain Top Talent

Recruiting and retaining qualified drivers in a competitive market is challenging for organizations across industries. High costs are associated with finding and onboarding new drivers, making it critical for companies to proactively intervene with at-risk drivers before they're disqualified. Qorta helps companies better enforce their safety policy by proactively addressing the driving behavior of existing employees, helping reduce driver turnover.
